

ACUC invites you to participate in a research study conducted by the University Hospital (CHUV) of Lausanne, Switzerland. The study aims to investigate possible implications of diving on the health of pregnant women and on the outcome of their pregnancy.

As you might know, diving is not recommended during pregnancy as a precautionary measure. Scientific data on the subject is poor and it makes it difficult to give information to women who have dived while pregnant without knowing it at the time. CHUV, with assistance of ACUC and DAN, has therefore set up a research study to collect data through an online questionnaire. Gathered data will be analysed and results will help provide to female divers more accurate information concerning health and pregnancy.

We warmly invite all female divers to participate in this research study through the online survey. It takes between 10 and 20 minutes to complete the survey.
