

Start Chrome and select from the “Customize” menu the “Settings” option

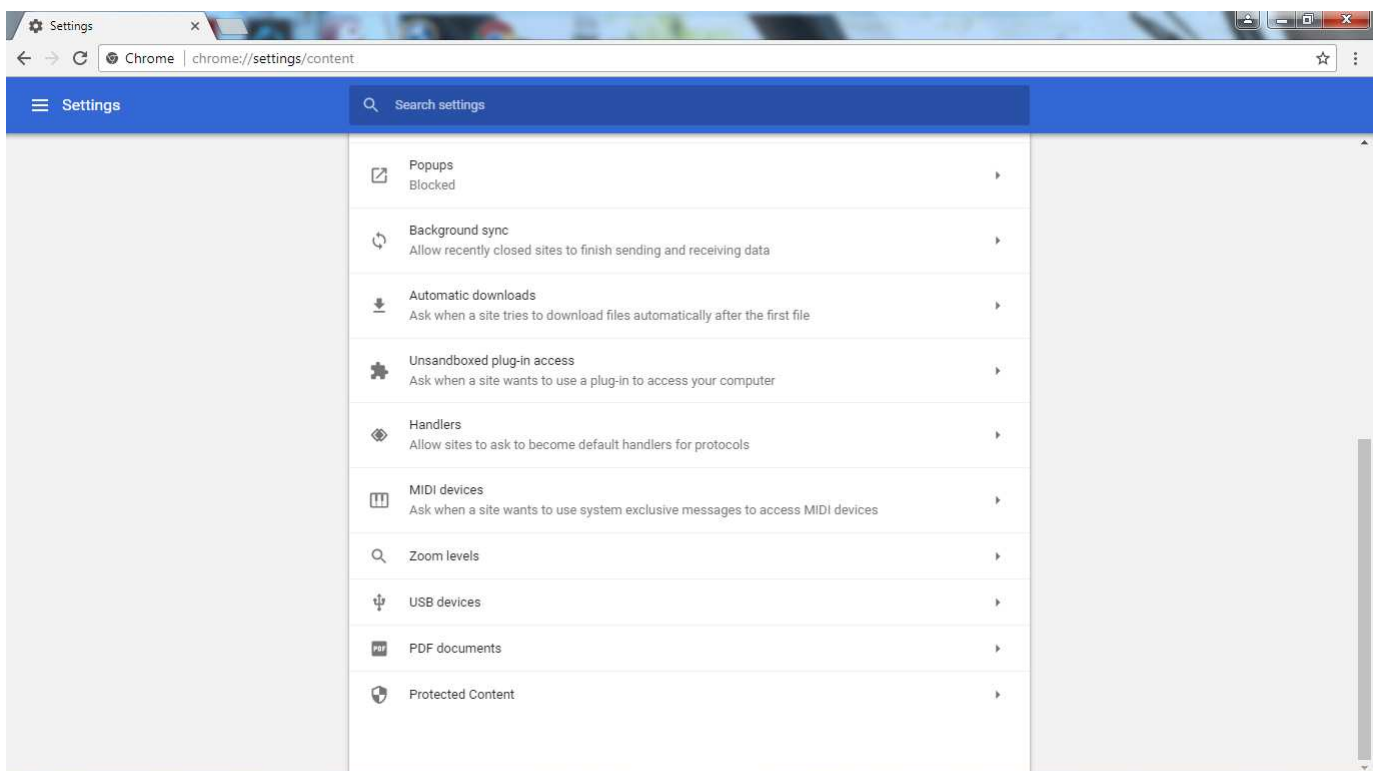

Go to the end of the page which appears where you will find the “Advanced” option and click on it

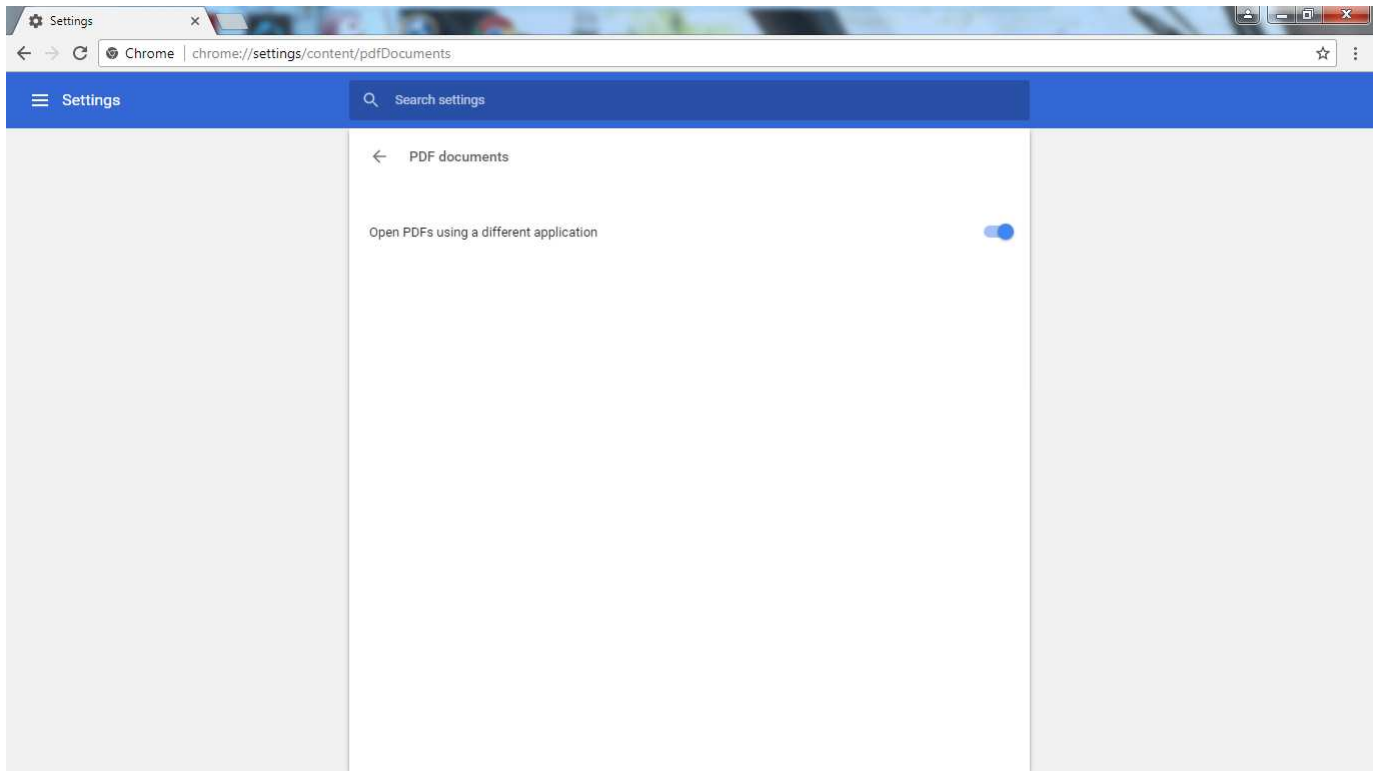

It will display a “Privacy and Security” menu; select the “Content Settings” option

At the end of the page which appears select the "PDF Documents" option

Activate the "Open PDFs using a different application" option

Now you should be able to fill and send PDF documents with Chrome. As an example, if you wish to send the quality questionnaire from the ACUC web, when you click on “Press here for the Quality Control.....” you will notice that a small window opens in the lower left corner of the screen showing the name of the document. Click on that window and the document will open; now you can complete and send it
