ACUC - INSTRUCTOR
TRAINER EVALUATOR
STANDARDS

ACUC

Points of special consideration

- This is a honorific certification
- The ITE must have exclusive dedication to ACUC regarding dive training
- The ITE must train a minimum number of Instructors every year in order to maintain the status.

FOREWORD

The ACUC Instructor Trainer Evaluator (ITE) is an honorific certification; therefore there are no training standards or specific training program involved. It can be obtained by those ACUC Advanced Instructors or Instructor Trainers that fulfil a series of prerequisites. This certification can only be offered by the President of ACUC, either at their own decision or as a request of at least one ACUC Instructor Trainer Evaluator. This certification will only be offered on an ACUC need basis, therefore, is not a certification that can be obtained following any parameters or specific training. The main characteristics of this certification is that besides doing the same as an ACUC Instructor Trainer, the candidate that obtains this level, can also teach, evaluate and certify, any level of Instructor, up to and including, the Instructor Trainer (this last level with the assistance and agreement of at least another ACUC Instructor Trainer Evaluator). They can also teach certain specialties for which they have requested and obtained from ACUC, the Specialty Instructor Trainer Evaluator rating.

The Instructor Trainer Evaluator must work, in Dive Training related matters, exclusively with ACUC, unless previously approved by the ACUC President. To maintain the ITE rating, they must train and certify a minimum of 2 Instructors per year, unless previously approved otherwise by the ACUC President. It is also possible to maintain the ITE rating if ACUC considers that the ITE has or is cooperating with ACUC in other ACUC related matters, even if the ITE does not certify the minimum of two Instructors per year.

This is an ACUC International standard and therefore is always subject to the different national or local legislations. In cases where legislations exist that differ from this standard, the ACUC country or area delegation if it exists, must request in writing to the ACUC main office (Canada or Spain) a “Deviation” from this standard to satisfy the legislation of the area, supporting their request with the appropriate documentation. Deviations, if requested, to be considered valid, must appear at the end of each specific standard document.

In cases where the local or national legislations are more restrictive than the ACUC Standard, then the local legislation will prevail, but if the ACUC Standard is more restrictive, then the ACUC Standard will prevail, because by complying with the more restrictive ACUC Standard, logically the local legislation will be also complied with.
